Code of Conduct

- No matter where we operate, we will obey the country's laws and regulations.
- Our "Code of Conduct" reflects the values of our company.
- Fyns Kran Udstyr A/S is a socially responsible company, and we respect all our employees as well as their professional and human qualifications. We emphasise the importance of a healthy working environment as well as proper facilities for all employees.
- The company will comply with contractual obligations regarding customer confidentiality, and therefore any confidential information – know-how and data concerning Fyns Kran Udstyr A/S and its customers or business – must not be revealed without previous permission.
- We focus extensively on customer satisfaction, and consequently we will only accept orders or projects, when we have the necessary capacity to complete the task in a responsible manner, no matter whether alone or in collaboration with others.
- We expect our employees in all respects to behave in such a way as to sustain the company's reputation and to demonstrate commitment to the core values of the company.
- Employees are also expected to comply with established policies and procedures, including this "Code of Conduct".
- If suppliers, customers or other business partners differ substantially from the values of our company and are unable or unwilling to make adjustments in this respect, we will feel a distinct responsibility to reconsider such relations.
